Myra

I have been talking to my contractor about the second round of sampling at the Falcon Site. We are looking at doing the sampling in September. I expect that we will only be in the field for 1 week. One issue that I will need to have addressed is the detection limits for the water samples for metals. The water quality standards for a number of metals/COCs are in the 1-10 ppb range and I will need to ensure that the lab can achieve those detection levels. Please note that the water quality standards are dissolved not total.

Thanks
